CAREERS

SERVING THOSE WHO PROTECT, PROTECTING THOSE WHO SERVE

OUR MISSION

Within the Department of the Navy (DON), the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) is the civilian Federal law enforcement agency uniquely responsible for investigating felony crime, preventing terrorism, and protecting secrets for the Navy and Marine Corps. NCIS defeats threats from across the foreign intelligence, terrorist, and criminal spectrum by conducting operations and investigations ashore, afloat, and in cyberspace, to protect and preserve the superiority of the DON warfighter.

NCIS relies on a highly skilled, diverse, and agile professional workforce to navigate a rapidly evolving threat landscape. Each of our positions—from Special Agents to intelligence analysts to human resources and beyond—play a critical role in executing the NCIS mission.

ARE YOU QUALIFIED TO BE AN NCIS SPECIAL AGENT?

- Must be under 37 years of age (exceptions are preference-eligible veterans and those currently covered under the 6C Federal Law Enforcement retirement system).
- Must have vision correctable to 20/20 with normal color vision.
- Must be a U.S.-born or naturalized citizen.
- Must be able to pass a background check.
- Must be able to pass a polygraph examination.
- Must be able to obtain and maintain a Top Secret security clearance.
- Must have a valid driver's license.

An accredited baccalaureate degree is not a requirement, although it is a quality ranking factor.

Required Training

Special Agents must complete the Criminal Investigators Training Program (CITP) and the NCIS-specific Special Agent Basic Training Program (SABTP) aboard the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC) in Glynco, Georgia.

Later opportunities may include specialized training in polygraph and credibility assessment techniques, procurement fraud, forensic science, counterintelligence, counterterrorism, leadership, and foreign languages.

Training opportunities are also open to other professional staff including security specialists and analysts.
